Is this Joseph
Williams Brother of Antonio
(Anna Conyngham
father in law)

①

The Williams family first appears in the city of Chic Directories in 1872-3.

The listing at that time was Joseph, Tobacco on Front St between Holland and German streets

The next issue ¹⁸⁷³⁻⁴ lists Joseph H. Williams a bricklayer with his home on the north side of 2nd street between Holland and German street.

The listings are the same in 1875, 6, and in 1877 lists his address as 837 East 6th street. This was the family home for many years and Joseph died there in 1913
^{14?}

In 1879 Joseph H. Williams had an ad.
in the City Directory (Copy attached) Bricklayer and Contractor

In the Federal Census July 5, 1880 Chic City
First Ward. Page 108. The family is listed as

Joseph H.	40	Bricklayer	Born in New Jersey	Parents born in New Jersey
Mancy L.	28	Housewife	B. Pa	Parents B Pa
Charles H	7		"
Joseph	3		"
Ma. (Cont Read)	1		"
Percilla Young	56	Mother in Law

I think it is safe to assume from the listing of Percelle as the mother in law that Nancy's maiden name was Young. The third name on the list may be Max but the writing is very poor and no name like that appears on later lists.

In 1882 Joseph H Williams and Robert Shank are listed as Bricklayers and Contractors. Joseph was still at 837 C. 6th and Robert Shank lived at 311 East 7th st. Copy of ad enclosed.

Things stayed pretty much the same and in the ~~1900~~^{7th} Census June 7, 1900. Page 126A ~~Federal~~.

on Oct 26, 1901 Joseph J Williams married Anna I Conyngham. The first residence I have for them is 825 Ash St.

In the 1903 Directory Joseph Williams has evidently dissolved his partnership with Robert Shank. They are each listed separately as bricklayers and contractors.

1902 saw the birth of the first child of Joseph J. and Anna. The son Joseph J Jr. was born Aug 8th 1902.

Living at 837 East 6th in 1902 are Joseph, Robert K and Sarah. - no others mentioned

The listing in 1903 - Joseph, Bricklayer, Robert Machinist, Sarah, student

1904 lists only Joseph and Sarah at 837. and Joseph J at 825 Ash St

The 1905 listing is Joseph, mason, Robert Machinist and Sarah - student.

NEWS RELEASE

The third annual meeting of the American-Portuguese Genealogical Society of America was held June 23rd at the Skipper Restaurant in Fairhaven, Massachusetts.

A report by Mr. Anthony Catojo, Jr. was given on the TV appearance on "The Portuguese Around Us" on Channel 6, New Bedford which was aired last Fall, in behalf of the Society.

The first slate of officers were chosen. They are as follows:

Mr. Anthony S. Catojo, Jr. of New Bedford, Mass., President;
Mrs. Gil Amaral of Deltona, Florida, Vice-president;
Mrs. Henrietta Mayer of Stonington, Connecticut, Treasurer;
Mrs. Estella Margaido of Taunton, Massachusetts, Recording Secretary and Miss Cecilia M. Rose also of Taunton, Corresponding Secretary.

The purpose of the Society is to join together all those with a mutual interest in American-Portuguese genealogy and to provide a clearing house for related material.

The requirement for membership at the present time is a one-page account of the actual work done in genealogy. After acceptance by the officers, nominal yearly dues will be expected.

The group's fiscal year will be from July 1st to June 30th.

NEWS RELEASE

One of the goals set by the founders of the American-Portuguese Genealogical Society, Inc. when they first met in 1977, was to duplicate their individual records and house them in a place for the public to be able to use for research.

After shopping around The Taunton Public Library seemed to be the most desirable location. Taking into consideration the new additions, the $50,000 grant for the Portuguese section of the Library and that ours is a regional library situated in a hub of Portuguese Americans in this part of the country, the Society found it was also welcomed here.

In 1980, a Grants Committee was established. Mr. George Viegas of the South Dartmouth is Chairman. He is assisted by Miss Evelyn Hendricks of New Bedford and Mr. James Silva of Portsmouth, Rhode Island.

The Society has just been awarded a mini-grant funded by the Massachusetts Council of the Arts and Humanities, a state agency.

After screening by the Massachusetts Council, Mr. Bruce Barnes of Swansea was selected to set up the system at The Taunton Public Library.

Mr. Barnes in addition to his masters degree in Library Science was head of the Genealogy Room and curator of the Melville Room at the New Bedford Free Public Library prior to going to the State Library at the Archives in Boston. Currently, he is Collection Development Librarian at Southeastern Massachusetts University Library.

A second application is being prepared for a mini-grant to be funded by the Massachusetts Council to cover the expenses in having the system actually set up, indexed, etc. It is necessary that the Society have matching funds for this portion.

Part of Mr. Barnes' responsibility will be to evaluate the work done to see that it follows his system as it should.

The Society has also applied for a larger grant which hopefully will bring a great deal of input into the project. Other grants are also being considered.

To date, grants from The Coimbra Club, Gaspar's Linguica of North Dartmouth, the Sociedade Portuguesa Rainha Santa Isabel of Oakland, California, the Portuguese Women's Cultural Club of Greater Washington, the Taunton Rotary Club, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony S. Oatojo, Jr., Mrs. Estella R. Margarido, Mr. and Mrs. Gil Amaral of Deltona, Florida as well as from many individual Society members have been received.

As equipment and supplies are not available to be covered by the grants for which the Society has applied, grants from individual companies, organizations and interested persons are most welcome. They can be sent to P. O. Box 644, Taunton, Massachusetts 02780.

To assist the Society with its work at the Library, a Volunteer Group recommended by the Massachusetts Council has been planned. Its first members are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Cambra, Joseph Fresta, Robert Faria and John Arruda.

Following the meeting with the Society at the Library last Saturday, these volunteers will establish the Volunteer Group hoping to help with fund raising, assisting at the Genealogy Room and researching.

The Society has grown to over sixty members from many states including California, Washington, Utah, Arizona, Illinois, Missouri, Florida, Canada as well as Connecticut, Rhode Island and Massachusetts.

It is expected that all members will contribute to this project. Although they will welcome any information since 1900, it is prior to that date on which the work will be concentrated. To begin with, cemetery records that are not readily accessible for the public and which have been gathered by Society members will have first priority for the project input. It is also expected to become a most valuable historical collection.

A newsletter, The Bulletin Board, has been published quarterly by the Society since 1979. Rev. Timothy Goldrick of St. Lawrence's Parish in New Bedford is the Editor. He is assisted by Rev. Joseph F. Viveiros and Mrs. Priscilla Schweidenback also of New Bedford.

In addition to Mr. Barnes, the Grants Committee and the Volunteers, also attending the meeting Saturday were Mr. James Methaney, Director of the Taunton Public Library; President and Mrs. Catojo, Jr. of New Bedford; Cecilia M. Rose, Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Margarido, Clerk, of Taunton and Mrs. James Silva.

Other founders of this nonprofit organization are Mrs. Henrietta Mayer, Treasurer, Stonington, Connecticut and Mrs. Rose Marie Silva of Livermore, California.

Cat has real tale to tell

By DR. ART PAAVOJA

THE SPIRIT of the sea-son lingers on with the story of Mary and David Shaw and their cat, T.C.. The 3-year-old male, whose initials stand for "Third Cat," is a domestic tabby who sports a large, distinguishing white spot on his belly.

For many years, the Shaws lived on Moorehouse Road in Greene Township with their four dogs and five cats. In March 1992, however, they moved temporarily to Millcreek while looking for a farm to buy. In the confusion of moving, T.C. disappeared. For several weeks afterward, Mary Shaw returned to the old neighbor-

BETWEEN THE LINES

Tickling funny bones has been his business for a good many years

"Don't miss the beautiful colors of the rainbow while you're looking for the pot of gold at the end of it." — National Enquirer, June 23, 1992.

If you're looking for a snappy message to get the new year off to a good start, look to quip writer Bern Williams, whose upbeat offering is one of 223 from Williams' pen the Enquirer has published in the past five years.

Obviously, if you consider the numbers, Bern J. Williams is no stranger to the clever re-tort or witty comeback. According to the Erie native, he's been dispensing wit and wisdom ever since "I said something and somebody laughed."

Williams, who will be 80 in May, always has a funny story to tell and for many decades cheered downhearted clients during his 43 years with the Pennsylvania Bureau of Employment Security, or Job Service.

He started as senior clerk with the Job Service, retiring in 1981 as regional director. Along the way, there were stints as interviewer, small office managreatest impression on you: The late Sister Mary Bertille, in St. Ann's Catholic School days. What's ahead: I have confidence in the young people who will continue to make America a great nation. Personally, I hope to continue to write.

What attracts you to television these days: I like "Cheers" (NBC), "Murphy Brown" (CBS) and "Seinfeld" (NBC). I used to like "Barney Miller," that was a good show; the old "Mary Tyler Moore Show," with Ed Asner, and "M*A*S*H," with Alan Alda.

You're favorite comedian: Of let the chips fall where they may'

and somebody laughed." Williams, who will be 80 in May, always has a funny story to tell and for many decades cheered downhearted clients during his 43 years with the Pennsylvania Bureau of Employment Security, or Job Service.

He started as senior clerk with the Job Service, retiring in 1981 as regional director. Along the way, there were stints as interviewer, small office manager, occupational analyst, assistant district manager and Erie office manager.

In his off hours, Williams worked just as seriously at humor — at perfecting the words to bring a laugh or a change of heart to others.

Through the years, Reader's Digest has published 11 of his quips — a remarkable feat considering the magazine's yearly average of 350,000 contributors. Among them: "If Adam and Eve were alive today, they probably would sue the snake." Or on a more serious note: "Talent is a flame. Genius is a fire."

And his favorite: "Man never made any material as resilient as the human spirit."

I understand you offered the Clinton/Gore campaign a few quips and received a letter from President-elect Clinton. What did he say? It was after his Erie visit. He wrote to thank me for my support; he said: "Brevity and levity sometimes say it all." I have no knowledge of whether he used them or not. Most of them were dealing with the economy, rather than humor. For example: "The winds of change are the winds of hope." "We need a commander and chief of the American economy."

What is the largest payment you've received for one of your quips? I got $400 from the Reader's Digest for a Personal Glimpses quote: "People who say 1992, however, they moved temporarily to Millcreek while looking for a farm to buy.

In the confusion of moving, T.C. disappeared. For several weeks afterward, Mary Shaw returned to the old neighborhood daily to look for him. Her search, and that of her former neighbors, was to no avail.

In June, the Shaws moved their possessions and pets from their temporary lodging to a farm in West Springfield, returning occasionally to Greene Township to continue their search. Then, shortly before Christmas, a somewhat incredible event occurred.

As Mary Shaw was looking through the stray animals that had been brought into the Presque Isle Animal Shelter, she and behold, one of the cats excitedly tried to reach her through the bars with its outstretched paw. He rolled on his back as if to expose the white mark on his belly. In disbelief, Shaw finally recognized the emaciated, but otherwise healthy T.C.

While it's a shame that T.C. cannot share tales of his 10-month sojourn between Moorehouse Road and Presque Isle State Park — and of how he managed to survive the almost certain hazards — it's heartwarming to know that he was reunited with Mary and Dave Shaw and the rest of their pets for Christmas.

Dr. Art Paavola is a Millcreek veterinarian.

"let the chips fall where they may" usually figure they will not be hit with a chip." Another one brought a $100 payment. Mostly I get $50.

Where else has your material appeared? I wrote gags for cartoonists. Years ago, I made The Saturday Evening Post, Colliers, Sunshine magazine, the American and, once, The New Yorker.

What's current? "Self-praise usually is a solo" is my quip on page 6 of the current (Dec. 29, 1992, edition) Enquirer. I'm in about two-thirds of the time. Sometimes I run six or seven weeks in a row, then I might skip a couple of weeks.

When did you start writing jokes? Back in the early '30s. I really wanted to be a cartoonist, but I didn't have the talent so I took to writing gags ... and later quips.

What's the difference between a quip and a gag? A quip is just a one-liner; it could be philosophy or humor. When you set a gag for a cartoonist, you tell him what the scene is and you write the tagline.

Have you written anything besides quips? I wrote a humor column, "Vantage Point," in the late '70s, which ran in the Erie Daily Times, and a humorous feature, "Unlikely Letters," several years ago, syndicated with the Al Smith Feature Service. He wrote "Mutt and Jeff" (comic strip). At one time, "Unlikely Letters" appeared in 26 papers in Canada and across the United States.

Quip writer Bern Williams looks for one of his clever lines.

What attracts you to television these days: I like "Cheers" (NBC), "Murphy Brown" (CBS) and "Seinfeld" (NBC). I used to like "Barney Miller," that was a good show; the old "Mary Tyler Moore Show," with Ed Asner, and "M*A*S*H," with Alan Alda.

You're favorite comedian: Of course, I like Johnny Carson. And I think Jay Leno has some talent.

Is it true that comedienne Joan Rivers bought a couple of your quips? When were they used and did you hear her delivery? This was four or five years ago, when she was between programs. She advertised for gags in a writer's magazine and I submitted some ... and she bought five. I don't know whether she ever used them.

What do you like in comic strips? "The Born Loser," "Frank and Ernest" — I sold a gag to that cartoonist once. Another good one is "For Better or For Worse," by a woman cartoonist (Lynn Johnston); she's very clever. Also, a relatively new one for senior citizens: "Pickles."

Proudest accomplishment: Raising two good sons. Also, writing quips that are published nationally. And going from senior clerk to regional director in the Pennsylvania Bureau of Employment Security.

You dread: Going to any doctor, although I have never been treated badly.

A really great evening for you is: Talking to my son Mark and my friends.

Book or author you recommend: Erma Bombeck, Dave Barry, Ed McBain and the late Sidney Harris.

What people might be surprised to know about you: I am not always "up," although I appear that way in public.

greatest impression on you: The late Sister Mary Bertille, in St. Ann's Catholic School days.

What's ahead: I have confidence in the young people who will continue to make America a great nation. Personally, I hope to continue to write.

Your solution to the economic crisis: Prosperity does not trickle down. It builds up. Give the middle class a small tax cut so they can spend it and give themselves and business a better economic climate. We should put more time and money into product research and development.

What you would change or do to help Erie's future: Have a Washington, D.C., representative watch federal contracts so that we can get a subcontract for Erie manufacturers. Have downtown businesses form a corporation and build apartments in the central part of the city. Once you get people there, you get more retail trade. Other businesses would follow.
